MEMORANDUM FOR:

FROM:

SUBJECT:

Scheduling of Consultation on the Semantics of Disinformation

REFERENCE:

Memo for DCI on "Preparations for Conference on Semantics of Disinformation,"
23 November 1984

STAT

1. For your information, I have scheduled an unclassified consultation on the semantics of disinformation for Thursday, 24 January this year, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., with a break for lunch between 12 noon and 1 p.m. Outside consultants who will attend are [redacted] In addition, two State Department officers will join several Agency officers in the consultation. EDP

2. We have tentatively set aside the SOVA conference room (4E64) for the day, although its simultaneous use as a temporary office registry makes it less than fully desirable for the purpose. We propose that you reserve the DCI conference room from 12 noon until 3 p.m. and that the Executive Dining Room set up for a luncheon there from 12 to 1 o'clock with the DCI as host. We would then continue our work from 1 until 3 p.m., with Mr. Casey's attendance subject to his availability.

3. Alternatively, we suggest that the DCI Dining Room be reserved for eight persons for luncheon between 12 and 1 o'clock, after which the consultation would continue in 4E64.

4. Listed below is the full list of expected participants in the consultation.

SUBJECT: Preparations for Conference on
Semantics of Disinformation

We have in mind inviting [redacted]

[redacted] A memorandum for the record will be prepared on our consultation for your information.

2. We hope to bring in these consultants on the same day and therefore to arrange a luncheon that I will host. I am sure that it would contribute to the success of the effort if you were to host the luncheon, your schedule permitting. If you agree, could you let me know which days of that week would be preferable?

* Since this is only a week away, SOVA would simply let DCI concur in principle; they, in turn, would set up such a meeting at the earliest opportunity.
